“ Aunt Audrey was a beautiful, high-spirited person. While she was always kind, caring and giving, I think that what I will remember most, is her sense of humor. Great character she had, and was. God hold you close, dear one.

“ March of 2007 I had a burst appendix, as I came home after the surgery I had a prayer cloth that Audrey had sent to me with prayers that I get better quickly, I kept it in my wallet, I had went back to work two days after the surgery, and never had a problem with the surgery. Three days before my birthday I had the first of three strokes that were caused by a blood vessel in my neck and so I suffered three brainstem/cerebellum strokes and woke up on my birthday and couldn't feel my legs anymore... while the third one was at the hospital, and after having it I couldn't walk or balance anymore. I laid in the bed with tubes and hoses connected, and I got another prayer cloth from Audrey. At the time my brother was visiting me, he was concerned about my condition, after getting the prayer cloth, within three days I was up on my feet, looking like a child learning to walk, hanging on to the "IV" stand as Martin was coming down the hallway to see me...I looked at him....He stopped in his tracks!...You're standing?!....Yep, I said...I plan to walk out of here....and with Martin's help I did...BTW...I left before the doctors wanted me to. If Audrey had only sent one more prayer cloth to get rid of that nurse that kept waking me up to check pulse, blood pressure, change this, administer that, I'd have stayed as long as the doctor needed me to. Thanks to Audrey and the time she took to get the prayers from the church and family, I am still standing! Audrey, I already miss you. I still carry both of the prayer cloths in my wallet.
