“ I was blessed to have been Frank's older sister for 67 years. I have never known a man who adored and loved his wife and children the way Frank did. He was a man who lived his religion and shared all his talents and material things with everyone. Besides being a great cook, he could fix anything and make anything with his hands. My heart is broken with his return to our Father in heaven, but I am comforted knowing that families are forever and we will be reunited in heaven, I miss him dearly, but take comfort knowing he has laid down his broken mortal body and is now free and can breathe!
