As a native eastern Kentuckian, Bill Deaton committed his life to the pursuit of entrepreneurial activities and economic development for the region. He loved southeastern Kentucky. Mr. Deaton was preceded in death by his parents, Junior and Lucille Wilson Deaton; his sister, Martha Deaton Dunaway; and by his beloved children, Anthony Deaton and Jeremy Deaton. He will be remembered for his unwavering faith and commitment to the Lord and his church, being a long-time member of The Creek Church. Mr. Deaton loved people. He never met a stranger and connected with people from all walks of life and was always willing to share his faith. He loved life. He loved to fish. He loved the University of Kentucky and was a Big Blue fan through and through. Most of all, he loved and adored his family.

“ It's with a heavy heart that I acknowledge the passing of Bill Deaton. I'll never forget meeting him for the first time when he interviewed me for my first "real" job out of school. Bill was truly a kind, generous, and compassionate human being. He dedicated himself to his community and genuinely cared for those who worked for him. His impact on countless lives, including my own, is immeasurable, setting many on a path toward happiness and success. His contributions, though many are untold, were immense.

My condolences to the Deaton family and to all of those who adored and loved Bill.

RIP "Mr. Deaton".

“ I worked for Mr. Deaton for many years and has been by far best and most generous employer I've ever had the pleasure of working for. He always brought our very big Christmas bonuses dressed as Santa. And always made time to meet each of his employees personally even though he didn't live in the same city. He will forever be remembered and missed. My condolences to all of his family and friends!!
