“ I wish I was there with my family as they walk through this journey where family and friends are gathered. It's not goodbye it's until we meet again. I loved Brian while he mat have been private as we all are with what we share but in his presence when I shared a conversation about a concern he immediately was trying to figure out a way he could help and if nothing could be done I would be 500 miles apart he would always say I love you and if you need me just call. Always he wanted to help and be there. Brian shared an unbreakable bond with his mom and Greg and it's still not broken it's just God waiting for them to spend an eternity together. So Greg you lean on God's strength and know family is there and God always sends his people. Brian shared many days with the cousins and I cherish those memories as he is reunited with many I know he and Scott are perfect and in the midst of Glory. I love you Greg and if you need me you call. I pray for God's strength today for you and the tomorrow's of sadness but I also pray you know you are never alone because the Holy Spirit will comfort you. God bless you all. I am thankful God chose our family to love and be loved by you Brian. Enjoy the shores of Heaven watching those tides roll in. 🙏💙
