“ Uncle, and yes, it was always just Uncle. I can still hear that deep authoritative voice of yours, especially when you and dad would be bantering over something no matter how big or small it may have been. Most of the time you'd be right or at least until you left and then dad would still be arguing his side of it long after the fact, too funny... I feel you had some impact on my life while growing up. I appreciate all that you and Sharon ever did for my brother and me. I can still remember the times you all would come to pick us up to take us to some Eagles event, or you'd stop by and throw a few bucks into our pockets. With that being said, I can only assume you are still you beyond this existence, most likely you are up there having some disagreement or argument with your brother William. Until we see again, please watch over the ones closest to your heart. Love you Uncle – Jody...
