“ My deepest condolences to all of his family. I only knew him briefly, but he had the type of personality that could make anyone feel welcome and at ease. He could put a smile on anyone's face. Hunter would have loved him, as he was too small when he did come to visit. I told him he was a very kind, and loving person. This story of his grandpa still puts a smile on his face. Again, to his family, we are so sorry for your loss he will be in our prayers and thoughts.
