“ When I lost Henry, (someone whom Debbie loved too), I went to work to pick up some paperwork. Debbie was coming outside in the rain, in her wheelchair. As soon as she saw me, she threw her arms wide and in the middle of Senture parking lot, covered by her umbrella, she held me and cried with me. She is one in a million. It is not fair that someone like her is taken, and others who show no joy to anyone is taken. Debbie, tears are still shed for you. Bless you and I love you.

“ I worked with Debbie for years. She helped me when my love Henry Yearicks passed away from cancer. It is not fair to lose someone like them when others who don't give a dang about anyone but themselves live on. Debbie, you are in my heart. Rest in peace dear lady.
