He was preceded in death by his parents, Delbert Engle & Mae Lawson Smith; and by three siblings, Clayton Engle, Amos Engle, Kay Engle.

Jack was known for his adventurous nature and passion for the outdoors. He found solace in the tranquility of nature, whether it was casting a line while fishing, tracking game during hunting expeditions, or exhilarating ATV rides through rugged terrain. Jack's love for shooting guns was not merely a hobby but a testament to his appreciation for skill and precision.

In addition to his adventurous pursuits, Jack had an innate sense of adventure that led him to explore various destinations near and far. He cherished every moment spent discovering new places and vacationing with family.

Jack's entrepreneurial spirit was evident throughout his life as he pursued various ventures with determination and creativity. His dedication to his work was matched only by his commitment to his family. He was a pillar of strength and support, always ready to lend a helping hand or an encouraging word.

Above all, Jack will be remembered for his infectious laughter and his ability to brighten any room with his presence. He cherished moments spent with loved ones, sharing stories, and creating lasting memories. Jack loved the Lord, and was grateful even in the struggle. He thanked God every day for all his blessings.

His love for life and people was evident to all who knew him, and his legacy will continue to inspire those whose lives he touched.

Funeral services honoring Jack Engle will be held on Monday, March 25, 2024 at 1:00 p.m. in the chapel of House-Rawlings Funeral Home with Barry Robinson and Wayne House officiating.
