“ I will miss your jokes, love and the compassion you offered to those in need. I'll miss making breakfast and our time together. You were a wonderful father and we are better for the time spent with you. Rest in eternal peace with God

“ My father grew up in Harlan with strong beliefs about hard work, honor and family. Those were virtues he lived by every day. He was a smart man who love to read especially about history, having lived through critically important times himself. He had been in the Coast Guard, Merchant Marines and stationed with the Army during post WWII in Occupied Japan. As common for men of his age he rarely spoke of his experiences, I'm sure many were both novel and tragic. Occassionally he would mention taking photos of Mt Fugi, traveling through Washington, or Aruba (just a brief peek into memories). He and I shared a love of "gadgets" and often compared our upgraded can openers or fancier Swiss knives. Improved finds, keeping The Sharper Image flush. My father was a Southern Gentleman who was thoughtful, flexible and kind (with the exception of no red socks for me at church). I will miss him in so many ways; a good joke, a crispy bacon breakfast all with a hug and the delight of being together. May the Sun's warm light and Stars when they're bright remind us of your love. But now the dark blue of the sky is wishing you goodnight. Rest in God's Eternal Love 🙏❤️
