“ Lowell was a very good person and fun to be around. He was the morning dispatcher at London when I got there. I was a CGO road driver that run London for 14 years. I remember a picnic at John Coles house and Lowell hated to lose at volleyball, there was a pig roast and it was a great time with all the people. He will be missed. My prayers go out to his family. “ Jewell and family. I am so sorry for your loss of a very special loved one. I know it is said ,our loss is heaven gain, but I have said that and preached it for many services and years. But, no one can feel your personal pain except the good Lord above. Its alright to morn however you want, the Lord understands and that is all that matters. I know we shall see him again. I will be praying for you and the Lord be with you all. He was a very loved person.

“ Jewell, Scott, and Tim, I could never put into words my true feelings for Lowell without saying admiration. From the time I first met him as a child until the last time I talked to him, he was always the same person and treated me as if I was family. Not many people would have worked as hard and long as he did for all those years with what he had to endure through life health wise and I admired him for that. I loved my friend and I am praying for you all

“ When I think about Lowell I think of a kind and gentle man. In our younger days especially, he would visit my parents who were happy to see him. Lowell enjoyed teasing my mom because she was 10 years older than him. Mom would just smile at him. This world has lost one of the best.

“ Lowell is a life long friend, and a bit of a hero to anyone that watched him play basketball at Hazel Green. He was so nice and friendly never meeting a stranger. Proud to say I knew him.
