“ What sad news today I read in the paper that has been on the corner of my desk since 9/30... As soon as I seen this article that one of my good friends, "and I mean a good friend", someone I became acquainted with in the late 90's had passed, I called my wife to inform her. As I read this article, I don't think Les Dixon could have put it any clearer; Joey was a jokester, his laugh (I can hear it now), the friend that would truly listen to you and your tale as you spoke, and most importantly someone who could make you feel better by just being around him. Josh and Andrea you both are in our prayers. I love this family. I will miss my friend.

2020 has been hard, and a rough year; this news hasn't made it any better. Prayers for you all.

Your friend Travis McQueen and family.
