“ Kathy and I use to eat lunch together everyday. We would laugh and tell stories all the time. I just found out. My heart goes out to her family and friends. I will pray that the hurt goes away fast. Just remember all the good times and that will get you through. My love to her parents and children and grandchildren.

“ With deep sympathy your sorrow is shared. We live in a world were we see so many loved ones fall asleep in death. But Jesus account at John 11:11-25 gives us comfort in knowing he can and will awaken our dear ones. My prayers are with you all.

“ I have been pondering what to write that does my Kathy Kat justice, and adequate words fail. She had an amazing wit and was so compassionate. I loved to listen to her tell a story. If Kathy opened with, "one time," I knew to settle in for an engaging tale that would recount every last detail and likely leave me laughing. She had a brutal honesty about her that was somehow refreshing, not off-putting; Kathy was great for a reality check, but she could be direct without making things personal or hurtful. She was a great listener and she cared deeply for her friends. She loved to help find solutions to things, and if she didn't know the answer to something, she would find a source that did. She found such simple pleasure in her crazy monkeys! She would squeal like a little child over a monkey when she would open Christmas gifts. I will miss that simple, yet strong and reliable joy she brought to my life. From the first time nine years ago when CherryBomb greeted me with her signature, "hey, hey, hey!" until the last time we spoke recently, she was a true keeper. My heart goes out to her family and dear friends. I especially pray for Scott in this difficult time. Miss you Kat!

Love,
Lis
