“ Grandma, I feel like nothing I could say on here would express the love I have for you and will always have for you. So many memories growing up at your house that will always be so magical to me. You are the strongest woman I have ever known and I hope I can make you proud. Love always, Natalie

“ Mom, all the words that come to me are painfully inadequate to express how much love I have for you. You always put others first. Their happiness was always more important than your own. Your caring and loving personality always shined like the sun. There was always love around you that flowed into everyone in your life. You are truly an angel. Thank you for allowing me to be part of your life. I will miss you so much. I love you always. Your son Ben

“ I remember stopping to visit Aunt Loretta and Uncle Dewey many years ago. She had just cooked a big pot of venison stew. It was so delicious! My husband was so impressed, all he could talk about was going hunting and so I could make him some at home. I told him, don't bother. There is no way in the world I could make it taste like hers and he would just be disappointed! She was always smiling and laughing. She brought so much joy to all of our lives.

“ I'm at a loss of words and as the tears fall while I attempt to type words instead of telling you in person how much you meant to me...you are the only grandma I have. I use to sit at the mirrored dresser in independence and dream of being a princess because you were such a beautiful queen. No more smells of the coffee brewing, biscuit bread cooking, sausage gravy sizzling in the cast-iron skillet. You waiting on all of us to walk in for a visit..stay a while you'd say. What are we going to do without you now, the feeling of your hands when you'd reach out to hold mine, as long as i live nothing will ever feel as soft and safe. The memories and stories will continue to be shared throughout all of us to pass to our own so you live on and are never forgotten. So your in heaven now and wait for our arrival and we will then stay forever. Raechel Leigh (your one and only Ratchet) broken but forever thankful and grateful for you and the strength you instilled in me. I love you beyond life. Hug Grandpa Uncle Ronnie and especially Mikie for me. Watch over us. We can't do this now without you. 😭

“ Grandma, you will be missed beyond words! I can still hear you yelling at us kids to get in yonder (wherever that was) and leave your mom alone. Some of my fondest memories growing up was at your home in Indepencxe when we would all come up for a visit and us grands would be lined up in the living floor on pallets to sleep and steady in trouble for cuttin up, or playing in the yard chasing lighting bugs or just pitch swinging listening to papaw sing and the adults cut up! Thank you for those precious memories I love you 💕💕
