“ Marnell was a great guy, but an even better brother in law. I have a lot of memories of him, he may be gone but the memories will stay with each of us. Marnell was so good to my girls, when my girls needed help he stepped up like a dad would. Both my girls say he's the second dad to them, and he was.

Marnell always told my girls he had two little girls in the barn, they believed him, for a little while. One year at Christmas he got them two big dolls, he had them wrapped up, told my girls they were for the girls in the barn. He said go ahead and open the gifts. They did and loved those dolls, then he said those dolls are for you. There no two little girls in the Barn. Precious memories.
