“ Mr. Byrley was, and is, someone I respect so much, I never even asked to use his first name in the 17 years we’ve been neighbors.

He looked out for me like a second Dad, knowing mine lived 100 miles away. For eight years after my first husband died, my front lawn stayed perfectly manicured, just like his own; his only explanation was, “you’ve got too much to do with those little girls.” When I remarried, he welcomed Tommy and let him take over.

I couldn’t begin to list all the ways he and Mrs. Byrley looked out for us, and he wouldn’t want me to, he never looked for credit. He only “tolerated” a thank you hug, and is probably mad at me for telling this much. 😊 His kindness, and teasing with a very dry (but hilarious) way let us know we were loved.

I just know when I felt lost, the world seemed a little safer with Mr. Byrley next door. Much love to him and his family.
