Beyond his professional accomplishments, Judge Dyche was an avid gardener, devoted reader, world traveler, and patron of the arts.

Judge Dyche's life was a steady gift to the community he loved. He served on a number of local boards, including the Laurel County Public Library and St. Joseph-London Hospital. “ Too few years I spent with Robbie. But they were action packed. I only lived in London for the 4 years of high school. Robbie and I became close friends, we got our first electric guitars together and formed a band along with Glen Little. In addition were the many hours playing golf, football, baseball sandlot style. My life took me a different direction, but I am happy to say that I was fortunate to see Robbie again on two occasions; one was as recent as 2 years ago. God bless you my friend and may you know eternal peace free from pain and distress.

“ A sad week in Laurel County. I have known Robbie since moving to London in 1976. We were the same age. An exemplary and accomplished person who battled Parkinson's disease with relentless courage. Ironically, I was acquainted with one of his law school classmates, John Bickel, who succumbed to the same affliction in 2020; we attended the same high school in Owensboro. Robbie spoke very highly of John. We will miss Robbie and offer prayers to his family.

“ It was an honor to work with Judge Dyche. His wisdom, integrity, and dedication to justice made a lasting impact on me. Working with him, I learned so much—not just about the judicial system, but about integrity, thoughtfulness, and the importance of doing things the right way. He was incredibly intelligent, yet always willing to teach and guide me. My heartfelt condolences to Jane and their sons.

“ So sad to hear of Robbie's passing. I attended law school with Robbie, and we were good friends. Argued cases in front of him when he was on Court of Appeals and later served in the judiciary along side him. He had a great wit, an outstanding mind, and a sly grin that were his hallmarks. My sincere condolences to Jane and family. Robbie was one of the great ones of our generation. He will be missed.

I was a young county attorney in the mid 80's and had my first court of Appeals case and argument before Judge Dyche. My opponent was seasoned and to say that I was nervous would be an understatement. Judge Dyche was so kind to me that day and he felt that the law was in my favor. I have been a District Court Judge now for 24 years and have made it my desire to treat all who come before me with respect, just as he did. My prayers are with the family. Judge James M. Lawson, 40th Judicial District..
