“ I sure will miss that smiling face. He has always fit in with our family, he loved teasing the kids and they loved it. He never failed to give you hug and tell you he loved you. He was a brother-in-law but felt more like a brother. Love you and Deb .you will never be forgotten!

I'm so sorry to hear this! My friend Grace & I met Ron & a lot of his family at Red Hill Horse Camp. I had an accident on my horse there & shattered my ankle & broke my leg in two places. Ron & his sister were the first two back to me after Grace went for help. I was so happy to see them, Ron sat behind me keeping me from sliding down the small hill I was on & made jokes trying to keep me calm until I was able to be put on a board & carried out. I will never forget how kind they both were. I was basically a stranger & the kindness & care they both showed me will never be forgotten. Rest in peace Ron & thank you for helping me on one of my darkest days. Cynde
