“ So many things have changed in the span of a month and a day. I've yet to make it through a day without crying. I can't do the things that used to bring me joy. Everyone says you wouldn't want me to be this way but my heart hurts so bad. I miss you so bad. Love you so very much.

“ My heart still hurts. I try my best to not cry all day. I wanted to call you today to tell you something about Bee and remembered I couldn't. I called anyway hoping I'd get the answering machine to just hear the recording but the phone is already disconnected. Leaving messages for you here brings me comfort though I know you can't see them. You have no idea how much you were loved by me and so many others around you. Love you Doodle Bug.

“ Today I wanted to call you up and tell you that I’m using the yarn you gave me only a few months ago. It still seems unreal that you’re gone and how broken my heart feels. It seems like everyone is ready to move on about their days and I’m stuck grieving and wondering what if. My heart hurts. I am sad. I don’t think you could ever know how much I loved you and how badly I am hurting. I miss you.

“ I've had a life time of memories with you; from when I was a little girl and you came and stayed with us, and the excitement of having a special boyfriend come visit you ( who later turned into Uncle Richard ), then after you were married and my parents and I would come visit in Troy, MI; and first meeting your sons as babies, then I'd come and stay you in Blackwater, and the trips I got to go on with you and family. You were always fun to be around. I've enjoyed you with your gardening, sewing, quilting, and those wonderful sweet potatoes that you grew. You'll always be in my heart my Dear Aunt Verda.
