“ I remember not long after my husband (Doug) and I where married we had stopped by Wilma and Bill's. They where getting ready to eat supper they wouldn't have it any other way but for us to eat with them! I remember everything smelled so good! We sat down at the table and they passed the food to us and Bill said it was fried chicken, gravy, mashed potatoes , green beans, biscuits. A beautiful meal, I started eating and Bill asked how I liked that rabbit? Well to say the least being a city girl I was about to lose it!! Everyone laughed and that is when I realized I was probably in for a whole new world of taste! And I am so grateful I did!! I even know now how to clean a fish!! Thanks Bill!! I won't forget you! We love you! RIP!!

Had a oppportunity to see him at the reunion this year. I was reminded as he told me about carrying me around on a pillow when I was a babe. A story I had heard many times before. Even Wilma told me. Heaven gets sweeter everyday.
